PROLOGUE

*All the world's a stage,
And all the men and women merely players;
They have their exits and their entrances;
And one man in his time plays many parts.*

THE CURTAIN IS DRAWN

Turn the pages of this book, and you draw aside the curtain of time to see revealed the most poignant scenes from the drama of your high school days, now ended.

The hero, the heroine, yes, and the villain, too, has played his part flamboyantly, making a pleasing entrance and a graceful exit.

The performers in these scenes will play in time many parts.

May the understanding they have gained on this stage enable them to play graciously the roles for which they will be cast in the broad drama of life.

SENIOR CLASS POEM

RETURN TO YOUTH

Thunder!
The curtain of time is rent
Asunder!

The Fates in solemn voice decree
That we be granted a day
To wander in youth's tranquillity.

Our hushed footstep softly falls
Through whispering halls of gray,
Within placid memory's hallowed walls.

And tinkling laughter lightly rings
With all its older zest,
Recalling dim, remembered things.

The willow weeps its languid sorrow
In age-old want of peace and rest,
Seeking these in the dreary morrow.

Wonder!
Omnipotence seals the curtain's rent.
Thunder!

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

This is the tale of the Senior Class that entered, lived in, and was graduated from Central High School during the famed "Era of Reconstruction." For, one year previous to our arrival, the state government had taken over the control of our school. The failure of the city to vote a tax supplement had left us with a meager term of eight months; had not only eliminated the twelfth grade and greatly lowered our rating, but also had deprived us of many of the activities heretofore cherished.

As the long line of seniors formed in front of the school in September, 1934, paddles in hand, the class of '37 were freshmen but for one day—that of initiation. Immediately then, we became juniors, for there were but two years of high school now. Settling down to the serious business of studying, we elected to lead us that first semester, Gales McClintock, as president of the Student Assembly. After several adjustments were made, the more ambitious of the class began looking about for new worlds to conquer. There was a great deal to be done, we found, outside our studies, in what was called by the seniors "extra-curricular activities." Some began working on the Rambler, some joined the ANNUAL staff, many engaged in the various forms of athletics, while still others sought membership in the school clubs which became their particular tastes.

In November of that first year Central lost its greatest friend and benefactor, Dr. Alexander Graham. The entire state mourned the passing of perhaps the most outstanding of its pioneers in the cause of education.

Just at the end of the first semester Central received a noteworthy addition, in the form of an English Reading Room. This library of literary classics has proved helpful indeed to the various English classes, who found it conveniently furnished with long reading tables and comfortable chairs. It was at this time that the Monogram Club sponsored the drive to secure financial support of the minor sports here at school. It is to be congratulated upon its success in gaining the necessary funds and thereby making it possible for these sports to continue.

During the second semester the Student Assembly was led by Creighton Sossoman. Early in the spring came the word that the city would vote upon the issue of a tax supplement for our schools. At once the entire faculty and student body of Central got to work. They pondered, they planned, they paraded, they labored unceasingly. On March twenty-third their efforts were crowned with success—the supplement providing for a nine month and twelfth grade was approved. Rejoicing heartily, students and teachers alike delayed no longer in setting about the task to make over the school—the Reconstruction Period had begun!

Many of the then seniors decided to take advantage of the twelfth grade and so deferred the honors of graduation for another year. The others, however, were graduated with impressive ceremonies in the Armory Auditorium.

Once again we were juniors, as school opened for the 1935-36 session, and this year ours was indeed a difficult job. To build Central back to what it once had been would require much time and endless, energetic toil. But we could do it, and we would—for the spirit behind Central is the sort that always comes out on top. The first semester, Harry Winkler pounded the gavel in the Student Assembly, and so it was during his administration that Central took a big step along the road to recovery. In November the school installed modern motion picture machines, well-equipped with the latest sound devices, and a public-address system.

As the Christmas Holidays sped by and the second semester caught up with us, we chose Hugh Ashcraft as president of the Student Assembly and Ermine Waddill as Chief Marshal. The activities of the dramatics class came to a climax during the state dramatic contest held in our auditorium. Central presented The Duchess Says Her Prayers, starring Anne Pease.

Ann Mauldin, and Harry Winkler. In May there appeared an excellent issue of Lace and Pig Iron—incidentally, this was the first in several years, as the Creative Writing Class had been discontinued for the past few years.

The athletic teams were very successful also, for Coach Bob Allen brought about great improvement in all our teams. Physical Education was resumed this year as a required subject for new students.

The reconstruction work was well begun and Central was certainly on its way to recovery, when again our class watched, a little more wistfully this time, the graduation exercises of the seniors.

Back to school for our last but most important year there, we elected Joe McLeskey as senior class president and Syd Alexander as president of the Student Assembly. Here it might be well to mention that the State Student Council Congress celebrated its tenth anniversary in High Point on November sixth and seventh. Charlotte was well represented, and David Citron was president of the Congress this year.

On the morning of October seventh, the entire populace of Central was deeply saddened by the passing, on the night before, of its beloved dean of teachers, Miss Charlee Hutchison. To the memory of this great woman, who taught and loved the children of Charlotte for almost fifty years, a portrait, presented by the friends of Miss Charlee in school and city, hangs in the halls of Central. This pays tribute in but a small way to the heritage Miss Charlee has left us; the memory of a beautiful life, lived in constant thought for others.

Sybil Searcy became editor of SNIPS AND CUTS this year, and E. S. Delaney served as her business manager. The unique issue of Lace and Pig Iron, which lately appeared was edited by Harry Winkler, and David Citron led the Rambler staff.

Another step towards the top was accomplished this fall when our football team, captained by Earl Fesperman, won the title of State Champions. Then in December the last payment was made on the motion picture machines and Central became one of the very few southern high schools which own such equipment.

Our last semester at Central we elected Reddy Grubbs as president of the senior class and Lewis Knotts president of the Student Assembly. Committee chairmen were appointed, and the preparations were begun for graduation.

The St. Patrick's Day carnival, sponsored by the Student Assembly was this year a huge success, and enjoyed by all who attended it. The Senior Club ball was also a most enjoyable affair besides being a very clever idea. The senior leaders of some of the outstanding school activities this year were: Ermine Waddill, president of the Girls' Athletic Association; Pattie Patterson and Mary Payne, presidents of the Girls' Good Sports Club; Graeme Fraser and Ernest Price, presidents of the Boys' Good Sports Club; Jane Alexander and Harriet Glasgow, presidents of the Pi Alpha Zeta; Milton Short and Jimmy Capps, presidents of the Oratorical and Debating Society; David Citron and Eugene Gullledge, presidents of the Honor Society; and Jane Alexander, editor of the first issue of the school handbook printed since 1930.

The Era of Reconstruction is almost over, and Central is again one of the greater of the southern high schools—not quite back to the top, perhaps—but well on the way, and our "A" rating no longer jeopardized. And the class of '37 may say without boasting, that they have had a great part in rebuilding the standards of their school. . .

A great lap in our education has been rounded—and we bid good-bye to Ole Central High with a tear in our eye, for we have learned much here, and we have made friends whom we shall never forget. May the oncoming years be as fruitful and as joyful as have the last three!

Respectfully submitted,

GRAEME FRASER, Class Historian

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

I close my eyes and try to visualize the fathomless futures of the Cinderellas and Prince Charmings of Central High School's Senior Class of 1937. What will be the roles that they will have to play in the infinite stage of life? How will they respond to their cues? What sort of actors will they make, and how will they be accepted by the audiences which will represent their friends and acquaintances? As I ask myself these questions, I slowly draw back the curtains of the stage within my mind and peer confidently in, relying on my imagination and my powers as a prophetess to give me the answers. As though a movie director suddenly had shouted, "Lights! Cameras! Action!" the scenes begin to unfold upon that stage. The places and environments change, but the time remains the same—1952. I here attempt to describe them briefly:

First, I find myself witnessing a scene in the New York office of a nationally known manufacturer of freckle cream, Mr. Bruce Tuten. It seems that, despite his inevitable business as the president of a company so important to the egos of millions of American women, Mr. Tuten, from the kindness of his sympathetic heart, has granted an interview to that "Johnny on the spot," know all, expose nothing reporter from The New York Yearly, Mary Tomlinson. Proving Mary's statement that business must be good, Bruce declares that his slogan "All for beauty, beauty for all," and his really good cream for the removal of freckles has brought to him many of the world's most famous celebrities. Among them, he says, are Mary Frances Sproles, designer of those none too prevalent blankets one notices on the really stylish poodles these days, and Mary Virginia Sloan, radio singer (or, to use more appropriate words, "America's Squeak-heart").

The scene changes. Now, I seem to be viewing the Morganton Nut House, or something. Surely, I shall see nothing here concerning a Central graduate, I mumble to myself, trying, at the same time, to discern the indistinct shadows on the opposite walls of a cell. I wince, then, as the somewhat changed person of Jimmy Capps emerges from out of the darkness. He begins to pace the floor and to mutter something like, "I have a little shadow that goes in and out with me, and what can be the use of him is more than I can see;" and then he adds something about Susanna. Ah, all is made clear! His shadow is Susanna Millwee, the thrice married, thrice divorced siren of the silver screen.

Susanna is not the only one from among the ranks to enter filmdom. There is Bill Adams, who, I am told, occupies as prominent a place in the hearts of the ladies in 1952 as does Robert Taylor in 1937. It is rumored, too, that June Escott, Bill's leading lady, does not fail to stimulate the heart-beats of the gentlemen, either. I try to uncover more about Bill and June, but they fade from view to leave room for Charlotte's greatest pride, old roll 'em in the aisle Mary Payne. On listening to a conversation between Mary and her director, George Jenkins, I learn that she has just completed work on a new screen-comedy entitled Old Maid of Salem. I learn, too, that the picture features such notable actors as Graeme Fraser and Milton Short, who do not fail to add lots of rollicking fun to it.

The setting changes from the movie-set to a cozy looking little cottage situated on a lake in the North Carolina mountains. On scrutinizing the scene, I discover, attached to the gate, a placard reading in bold letters Old Maids' Home. From a window leans the chief cook and bottle washer, Merrie Haynes. She is explaining to a young matron of the neighboring village, the former Marie Roseman, the reason for the establishment of the little home. It seems that she and Jane Alexander, having so terribly many suitors from which to choose a husband, but unable to sift the number from many to one, decided not to marry at all, but to found a home for girls finding themselves in similar plights. Among the members of the happy band are Hilda Beatty, Nancy Jones, Clinton Powell, Emily Dunlap, and Jean McGinn.

Are those sounds I hear coming from a courtroom? Is the stern looking judge upon the bench Syd Alexander? Why, sure. Who else could possess such an air of dignity and authority? Before him stands Mrs. Stansbury Horne, formerly Miss Mary Wright Myers, and one of the nation's leading magazine illustrators. She is testifying in a divorce suit against her husband, renowned architect and designer of the winter home of David Citron, President of the United States. Mrs. Horne charges brutality.

The spot-light now turns to Sybil Searcy, a heavenly vision in pink, who dances airily to a beautiful waltz upon the circular glass stage of the Proxy Theatre in New York, and who dances just as airily into the hearts of all the spectators. From across the space separating them smiles Howard Copeland, Master of Ceremonies and leader of an orchestra equal in rank to that of the world-famous Carl Schoonover. In the audience are those boon companions, Ermine Waddill, the violinist, and Pattie Patterson, noted sportswoman. Others are Dr. June Burks and her indispensable nurse, Virginia Wall; Reddy Grubbs, millionaire playboy; Ernest Price, outstanding G-man; Charles Henderson, eminent senator from North Carolina; and Rebecca Tucker, recent winner of the coveted title, "Miss America."

The curtains fall on these fantastic scenes. I open my eyes to reality with the sincere hope that each senior in the class of '37 will play his part, whether large or small, so skillfully that his exit will be met with the most heartfelt applause from everybody.

NANCY ALEXANDER, Class Prophet

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Know all men by these presents that we, the class of nineteen thirty-seven, being of sound, disposing mind and memory, and desirous of disposing of our worldly estates after our deaths, respectfully do make, publish, and declare this and none other to be our last will and testament, hereby revoking any other will or wills made by us at any time previous. We do hereby make the following dispensation of our possessions.

ARTICLE ONE

To the Junior Class:

Item One—To you we reluctantly yield our senior dignity and the right to the esteemed title "Ye old seniors."

Item Two—We leave you any of our number who may have been unable to withstand the rigor of their studies.

Item Three—We vest in you the responsibility of preserving Central's abundance of school spirit and of leading the organizations of the school to new and greater heights.

Item Four—To you we leave any stray wads of gum which we may have left unwittingly behind.

ARTICLE TWO

To the Faculty:

Item One—To Dr. Garinger, we express our heartfelt gratitude for his patience and sympathy in dealing with our problems. He has been at all times a wise counselor, a discriminating judge, and a champion of all good causes.

Item Two—To Miss Fraser, we voice our sincere thanks for the constancy of her interest in student activities and for her kindly and intelligent advice and criticism.

Item Three—To Miss Jessie, we leave a Rambler staff that will respect the sanctity of the deadline and get articles in on time.

Item Four—To Miss Rankin, we leave a Problems of American Democracy class not quite so loquacious as this year's.

Item Five—To Mr. Sides, we leave a band that will continue to win contests and retain its reputation of "the best high school band in the South."

Item Six—With "Pop" Norman, we leave that notorious breeding-place of vile odors, the chemistry lab, with the request that he keep all its doors and windows closed during the coming year.

Item Seven—To Miss Langford, we leave French students who will remember that the verbs aider, aimer, and apprendre take de before infinitives—or is it a?

ARTICLE THREE

To Various Individuals:

Item One—I, Milton Short, grudgingly relinquish my "gift of gab" to Lewis Harvard, with the painful realization that he can never attain the heights which I have reached in the art of bull-shooting.

Item Two—I, Harry Winkler, do bequeath unto Mack Murphy, my unchallenged position as czar of Central politics and any cigars which I have left over.

Item Three—I, Syd Alexander, will my renowned executive ability to Jimmy Greenwood.

Item Four—I, Jane Alexander, leave my ability to make A's to Lalla Marshall.

Item Five—I, Lewis Knotts, bequeath my popularity to Tom Smith.

Item Six—I, James Capps, will my stirring oratory and super-eminence in debating to Bill Shore.

Item Seven—I, Sybil Searcy, leave all my "superlatives" to Tiny Waddill.
Item Eight—I, Eugene Gullledge, do will and bequeath to Banks Cates, my dependability and willingness to work.

Item Nine—I, George Mitchell, Central's model student, will and bequeath my splendid deportment to Gene McGarity.

Item Ten—I, Martha Jean Brooks, will my personality and host of friends to Anne Wiley.

Item Eleven—I, Charles Henderson, do hereby grant to Henry Da Vega, the exclusive privilege of using the phrase "good, that's perfect."

Item Twelve—I, Howard Copeland, bequeath my prowess in football and track to Bill Wartman.

Item Thirteen—I, Robert Jenkins, leave to Ernest Morris, my virtual monopoly of the offices of treasurer.

Item Fourteen—I, George "Barnum" Jenkins, leave my reputation as Central's greatest showman, to Marion Hargrove.

Item Fifteen—I, Robert "Lavoisier" Harrington, feeling that he is sorely in need of it, leave a portion of my extensive knowledge of chemistry to Mr. Norman. I shall also send said Mr. Norman a copy of my course on "How to Teach Chemistry in Ten Easy Lessons."

Item Sixteen—I, Mary Wright Myers, leave my rapid-fire speech to anyone who wants it.

Item Seventeen—I, Jim Hart, bequeath my reducing recipes to Ned Edwards.

Item Eighteen—I, Oliver Ranson, bequeath my dignified appearance, together with the on-a-chain spectacles, to Daniel Brandon.

Item Nineteen—I, Jack Baker, leave my man-about-town legend to Ed Parnell.

Item Twenty—I, Mary Frances Sproles, leave to Rubye Reynolds, the work of spreading sunshine from day to day.

Item Twenty-one—I, Stanbury Horne, do regretfully bequeath to Clarence Alexander, my precious lists of hauntable houses.

Item Twenty-two—I, Emma Neale Black, leave to Bobby Trotter, a parting admonition to mend his ways at dancing lessons.

Item Twenty-three—I, Graeme (pronounced Grimy) Fraser, do leave my idea of "A Free Press, yes! But git the ads!" to the coming advertising staffs of the Rambler.

Item Twenty-four—I, Billy De Berry, do give and bequeath my aspirations to be a second Bernhardt, to Katie Daniel, who wants to be a second Cornell.

Item Twenty-five—I, Ben Paschal, leave.

We do hereby make, appoint, and designate Dr. E. H. Garinger to be the executor of this, our last will and testament.

In Witness Whereof, we, the Class of Thirty-seven, the testators above named, have hereunto subscribed our hands and seals, this third day of June, Nineteen Hundred Thirty-seven, at Central High School, Charlotte, North Carolina.

CLASS OF THIRTY-SEVEN,

(Signed) DAVID CITRON; Class Lawyer

Signed, sealed, published, declared, undersigned, attested, certified, ratified, countersigned, authenticated, compacted, published, issued, proclaimed, and inscribed on this single piece of parchment as and for our Last Will and Testament, in the presence of us, who have hereunto subscribed our names, at their request, as witnesses thereunto, in the presence of said testators and of each other.

STATE CHAMPIONS

"... WHEN THOSE CHARLOTTE WILDCATS FALL IN LINE."

Pre-season dope on the 1936 Wildcat eleven marked it as the mystery team of the state. Many thought the boys would go through undefeated as they lined up against Barium Springs with one of the heaviest teams to represent Central for many seasons. Overconfident, our boys lost 6-12. Huckabee and Newton starred.

Then came the Gastonia game. Everyone, except the team itself, was surprised to see the Blue and Gray rip and tear a fighting Green Wave apart. The final score was 39-0 in our favor. All of the Wildcats played jam-up ball.

Next came the hardest game of the season, the one with Asheville. On a rain-soaked field the heavier Maroons took a 19-0 victory back to the mountains. The Wildcats fought hard and obtained much experience from this game.

With machine-like precision, those fighting Wildcats dusted off the much heavier Blue Ridge team by 19-6 and sent the boys back to the hills wondering what had hit them. The play of Barr, Knotts, and Wilson was outstanding in the line, with Smith, Wartman, and Huckabee playing good ball in the backfield.

Beginning to get in shape, the boys played one of their best games of the year when they met Spartanburg. At the half the boys were trailing 0-14. Coach Allen used his magic in the dressing room and those Wildcats came out fighting to raise the score to 14-13. With less than five minutes to go Charlotte appeared to be on the way to another goal, only to have Spartanburg intercept one of our passes and raise the score 20-13. This was a heart-breaking loss. Wartman's fine running and John Barr's blocking were outstanding.

Charlotte's next foe was Greensboro. Playing out-of-town for the first time, the Wildcats were in the role of underdogs. The boys came out of a dressing room half full of water to cop the game 19-6. Wilford Kale did fine work in the backfield with Wartman and Smith making nice runs. Fesperman and Hart stopped line plays dead.

Homecoming with High Point proved successful. It was a well-played game, with Central winning a decisive victory by a score of 14-0. Mickle and Cathey played stellar ball. Now atop the Conference with three wins and no losses, the Wildcats prepared for the crucial game with the strong Salisbury team.

The great day dawned cold and clear and the Wildcats went on the field determined to tear Salisbury to pieces. At the half the team was trailing 0-6 because of an intercepted pass. When the teams started the second half, they battled on even terms until Tom Smith took a punt on his own 7-yard line and ran 93 yards for a touchdown. The boys were driving now. Taking the ball on their own 40-yard line they drove straight for another touchdown with Kale doing most of the ball-toting, and carrying it over.

Now on top of the Conference, nothing could stop them as they swamped Winston-Salem 34-12. Wartman, Jackson, and Owen played well in the backfield with Fesperman and Brogden playing good ball in the line.

This gave Charlotte High another chance at the State Class-A title. No one conceded it a chance against the powerful Raleigh outfit that had won 21 straight ball games. It was a thrilling game from the start when Wartman ran 102 yards on the opening kickoff for a touchdown. This was the longest run ever made in a state championship game. The teams were evenly matched. Only the gallant Wildcat spirit told the story. In the third quarter Huckabee passed to Newton for another score. In the fourth quarter Raleigh scored on a pass. However, when the game ended the ball was on Raleigh's one-yard line in Charlotte's possession. Newton, Fesperman, Cooper, and Hart played a fine game in the line. Mickle, Cathey, Jackson, and Huckabee played stand-out ball in the backfield.

Congratulations, State Champs!

BASKETBALL

Under the direction of Coaches Bob Allen and Tom Brown, Central's basketball quint gave many brilliant teams hard-fought games. Although they did not win any titles, the Wildcats won a majority of their games.

Captain Julian Miller was the leading veteran back on the court, while Jack Sims, Gene Shumate, and B. A. Lingle were among the others with experience.

Central's varsity played two unusual games this season, these being with a team composed of faculty members. Although the varsity lost the first game, they gained revenge in the second by winning with a score of 28-12.

BOXING

Central's boxing team enjoyed a successful season this year, losing only two dual meets, these being to the Monroe and Raleigh teams.

Toward the end of the season, several boys were sent to Chapel Hill to participate in the State Championship Tournament. John Barr was the only one who won a championship title.

Boys receiving letters were: Nelson Williams, John Bittner, Phil De Berry, Jimmie Huntley, Ray Lester, John Cameron, Leonard Green, Bill Waggoner, Dexter Wallwork, Jim Atwell, John Barr, Manager Harold Mullins, and Manager Ramon Amon.

John Barr was elected, at the team's annual banquet, to captain the 1938 team.

TRACK

STATE CHAMPIONS

For the first time in several years, Central's ace track team captured the State championship at the meet held at Chapel Hill. Under the direction of Coach Bradford, a number of unusually good men were developed.

Howard Copeland established a record in the high hurdles with a timing of 16 seconds flat. Other records set were as follows: two-twenty dash in 22.2 seconds by Bill Wartman, and the mile in 4 minutes 40.6 seconds by Captain J. C. Hanes. The mile relay record was also set by the team, finishing in 3 minutes 36.2 seconds. Boys participating in the relay were Hayes, Moore, Hanes and Knotts.

Charles Gregory was elected by the team to captain the 1938 squad.

The season's record follows:

- April 2—Charlotte 82 ; Columbia 40
- April 9—Charlotte 66½; (Western Conference Winner)
- April 13—Charlotte 98⅓; Davidson Frosh 19⅓
- April 22—Charlotte 28½; (Winner in State Meet)
- May 1—Charlotte 64½; Asheville School for Boys 57½

BASEBALL

The baseball season has started off with a bang this year. So far all the games played have been won. On March 26, the team played Mount Holly and won 26-0. Let's hope that this is only the beginning. Our team, with Washam in left field, Powell in right field, Wilson, first base, Williams, third base, Richards, center field, Smith, catcher, and as pitchers, McLeskey, Earl Heath, Bill Atwell, Robert Miller and Bill "A-cut" Cooper, did it again when they played Belmont and won, 5-4. Although only three games have been played, it looks as if prospects for the season are good.

The schedule is as follows:

March 26—Charlotte	26, Mount Holly	0
March 30—Charlotte	5, Belmont	4
April 2—Charlotte	9, Kannapolis	8
March 31—Charlotte	5, Lance Packing	4

REDDY KILOWATT SAYS— Economizing with Electricity

Intelligent and progressive housewives are not only relieving themselves of household and kitchen drudgery and making their homes healthier and brighter, and happier, but they are actually and substantially reducing their household budgets through the wise application of electricity to household duties.

Take the three all-important matters of cooking, refrigeration, and water heating for instance. With all of its advantages of coolness, convenience, the saving of time and labor, and other advantages, electric cookery costs no more than the old fashioned ways. And electric refrigeration, with all of its advantages over ordinary refrigeration actually costs less—much less. Automatic electric hot water service is economical also—almost beyond belief.

The cost of electric service has had a constant trend downward since the power industry came into being. The cost of living has substantially increased during the past three years; the cost of electric service has continued to decrease.

LETTERS

Dear Sir:

I am just a high school boy, trying to get an education and I read your magazine because somebody said it was good.

Best of all I like to read articles about love affairs, although I am not in love yet. But there are plenty of girls here in school, and you never can tell.

What I can't understand is why you print a column so grossly misleading as "PEOPLE." A long time have I read this column and not yet have I seen anything about Aunt Minnie, or Uncle Ezekial, or Cousin Elijah. Now "PEOPLE" is supposed to have news about people, so why aren't my relations mentioned? Aren't they people? Please change this column and your magazine will be O. K.

Respectfully,

MUSH ELSEPHUS

Dear Sirs:

I really don't know just how to start this little note. I'm just a young adolescent of fifteen years, two hundred and fourteen days, and ten hours (to be exact), and I've never written a real business letter before. I tried to get my mother to write this last night, but she said I had to start to learn how to do these things sometime, and I might as well begin now. My mother also told me that one of the most important things about writing a business letter is to put each thought, or idea, in a separate paragraph; so I'll start a new paragraph now.

Please change that awful old "TIME" cover that will endure through the ages, such as the one of FIGHTS, IN and OUT of the RING . . .

Most emphatically yours,
 BETTY WANNAFELLAR

Dear Sirs:

Let us congratulate you on the splendid work that you and your most efficient staff have done on your book, "Snips and Cuts." It is indeed a success. We realize that it couldn't possibly have been done without the co-operation of every one of you. We only hope that we can tell you just half of what we think of it; but that is impossible, for words cannot express how grand we think it is.

Sincerely,

THE SNIPS AND CUTS STAFF

Dear Sir:

I enjoy your magazine thoroughly but I have one complaint to make. You have too little information on the Honorable Constantine Meena, the great United States Ambassador to Konkevalia.

Recently when Ambassador Meena began the popular stand-on-the-head strikes in Konkevalia to obtain longer working hours and less wages, I was surprised to see that your magazine made no mention of this benevolent act.

Please print all information you can get about Ambassador Meena, as I look forward each week to reading about the great "pride of Konkevalia."

Yours truly,

HETLESS HITMOR

Gentlemen:

I am a young girl of forty-two trying to get an education. I expect to finish high school in two years. I want you to know that I attribute my remarkable progress to your splendid magazine. It is most educational.

Sincerely,

JUSTAMERE BRIGHTCHILD

THE PRESIDENCY

The Rough Diamond

Lewis Knotts, Central's Student Council President for the second semester, although neither cut nor polished, possesses all of the brilliancy and quality of the most valuable diamond. Riding rough shod over Charlie Henderson and "Roberts' Rules of Order," Lewis forced through legislation which carried Central over the top with flying colors; and through his guiding hand and spirit, the Blue and Gray closed a successful year.

At the beginning of the semester many clashes occurred between Charlie Henderson, parliamentarian, and Prexy Knotts, over the latter's ignorance of rules of parliamentary procedure. Knotts, however, was not going to bother with such "trifles" and Charlie's protests went unheeded.

Unhampered by rules and regulations, Knotts then went to work and "got things done." During his administration the treasury of the Student Council soared. Knotts said he was tired of seeing treasurer after treasurer do nothing but wear a title around school; so he put Murphy to work and gave him some accounts to juggle.

It was also under Knotts' rule that the fund for the Charlee Hutchison memorial was completed. This was indeed a worthy accomplishment.

At the middle of the semester Knotts felt an irresistible urge to clean up Central. Appointing Mae Duckworth as his Secretary of Labor, he scraped off the first two layers of earth and exposed the startling fact that Central wasn't really a pig pen after all.

So with clean hands Knotts ended a successful term and both he and Alexander will go down in the annals of the school as having done their share to perpetuate the name and honor of dear old Central. Congratulations, boys!

LEWIS KNOTTS

Collapse

The entire nation is anxiously awaiting an announcement concerning the condition of George Chunk Jenkins, who was taken to Memorial Hospital last week, suffering from a nervous breakdown, said to have been caused by overwork as advertising manager of the SNIPS AND CUTS.

For several weeks prior to his breakdown, doctors warned Mr. Jenkins repeatedly not to tax his delicate constitution, as he was much too weak and thin already, but Mr. Jenkins, as wise a man as he is, paid no heed to their constant warnings and delved deeper into his work on the advertisements.

Last week, while fellow staff members were industriously at work on the annual, they were suddenly startled by moans, coming from the corner of the room. Upon investigating, they discovered Mr. Jenkins mumbling to himself and running his fingers through his long, curly hair. An ambulance was called, and he was taken to the hospital where he was reported to be resting comfortably.

When Mr. Jenkins had recovered sufficiently enough to talk, he revealed that his breakdown was due to the loss of his portfolio, containing all the advertising contracts. The recovery of this most valuable article a day later improved his condition remarkably.

POLITICAL NOTES

Blond Dynamite

School had hardly got into full swing before even the Sophomores began to realize that something was happening over here. Who was that tall blond boy who seemed to be in charge of everything? However, news travels fast and it wasn't long until it became known that he was Syd Alexander, the football star.

However, athletics were not Syd's only achievements. He was an "all A" scholar and this certainly came to his aid in handling the affairs of the school. It was during the administration of Syd that payments on the motion picture machine were completed. Throughout the semester Syd presided over all meetings and conducted the business of the student body with efficiency, gracefulness and dignity.

ARMY

Traffic Jams

Stalking on tiptoes, armed with pencils, paper, and telescopes, the traffic officers under the sponsorship of Miss Thomas, recently made another successful raid upon the near-by drug stores. Many notorious cowboys were taken without any bloodshed. Had it not been lunch time, the officers doubtless would have aimed their stalking at our fair city's poolrooms, where Central's small town criminals hang out. However, the ever efficient officers neglected to guard the back door and many of our mice scampered back to school unharmed. Those arch criminals who wished to patronize other than our modern, efficient cafeteria had to design their lunch at breakfast and carry it to school. They were rewarded for their behavior by being permitted to eat in a study hall by themselves.

Quotation from one of the victims:

"Next time I'll get Ethel and scam out the back door too."

MILESTONES

Awarded: Milton Short, the brass award for being the most bashful and retiring boy in the student body. Withholding his opinion unless sufficiently urged, he was quite a help to Central.

Engaged: Miss Bertha, in trying to keep her home room quiet enough so that when she yells at them they can hear her.

Lost: Miss MacFadyen, her piece-of-mind, since coming to Central as secretary. What! With running back and forth between the office, the English Library, and Doc's office, it's a wonder she has any left.

Stolen: From students of Central High School, much of their valuable time by the O. D. S. Later investigation proved this time was misused terribly. It is charged that the members of this organization not only stole the time but tortured the "studes" by filling their minds with distracted ideas.

Awarded: Jimmy Capps, the beautiful gold trophy for winning the beauty contest. We wish to congratulate him, considering whom he was in competition with (all Central's male beauties).

Born: To Chunk Jenkins, an idea as to how to make the annual staff get ads in on time (or even to get them in). The idea is, Mr. Jenkins states, to accompany each "ad-getter" with a 37-calibre revolver (well-hidden, of course) in his side-pocket.

Found: A short route to Morganton. If interested, see Miss Rebecca Markham for further information.

FOREIGN

Diplomacy for Constantine

Constantine J. Meena, the dapper 4th bass of Central's choir, last week told the news-hawks that he had chosen Diplomacy for his life's work. He plans to enter the diplomatic corps of Mecklenburg County. Said 4th bass Meena: "When I am in the service I will do away with the Union County tariff on incoming moth balls. In return we shall let them ship tutti-frutti ice cream into Mecklenburg County duty free."

Said president of Cabarrus County Chamber of Commerce: "It is a great break for us to have him in Union County."

THE PRESS

Publications

Central is the proud possessor of two fine publications: the bi-monthly paper, the Rambler, and the yearly literary magazine, Lace and Pig Iron.

The Rambler contains current news about Central students and their activities. There are numerous features written by well-known columnists such as Marion (The Great) Hargrove. Although the Rambler is supposed to be a bi-monthly paper, it is sometimes issued to the students once a month.

Lace and Pig Iron is published at the end of the school year after months of collecting the subscription money. This magazine features different literary pieces by the various writers of the school and is illustrated by one of the school's leading artists.

CRIME

A short while ago E. S. (Gord Head) DeLaney was elected business manager of SNIPS AND CUTS, Central's yearbook. This came as a big surprise to those interested, as "Gord Head" was reportedly out of the race because his salary bid was approximately $1,000 higher than the next in line for the job.

However, during a recent interview with Mr. DeLaney, the big shot, himself, declared that he expected a bonus equal to his salary for retarding more ads than anyone in recent years. Mr. DeLaney lived up to his word in retarding ads, and, although it is supposed to be a secret, his daily earnings finally amounted to more than that of Editor Searcy or Advertising Manager Jenkins.

Due to his success on this job, which was a personal interest entirely, "Gord Head" was recently elected President of the Greenback Club ($$$$$), of which Marion Hargrove is now president and Paul Hargette, Secretary and Treasurer. The members of this famous school club are indeed a select group. They are as follows: Ernest Morris, Richard Cowhig, Wiley Ballard, Constantine Meena, George Mitchell, and James Capps.

Good luck to you, "Gord Head." We know you will make $5,000 out of that $500 job for which you are now striving at that "Duchess School for Children."

CRIMINOLOGY

Students of Central High School became aroused last week against the violation of their rights as members of organized labor. At a mass labor meeting held in the school auditorium Dobby Kumpe was elected chairman of the newly organized union. Also a bill of complaints and grievances was drawn up. Contained in the document were the following complaints:

1. Miss Herr is charged with violating the eight-hour work day by her terrible assignments.

2. Misses Henderson, Fraser, and Downs are charged with polluting the minds of seniors by forcing them to wade through the works of Poe and Hawthorne.

3. Mrs. Long is charged with detaining students, who in exer-

What will Catherine and Joe do without a library table under which they can hold hands?

Hilda writes 78-page letters to Donald! Whew! She eats two carrots every day for lunch. Most peculiar girl.

Milton thinks Mildred has plenty of what it takes. Wonder how long it took Milton to get that wave in his hair? And that vile-smelling hair tonic he uses.

Did Emma Neale have the measles, too?

Jane A. was voted the biggest heart breaker in her home room. How about it, Lul Lu?

Graeme takes a different girl out every day to make up pages for ads.

It's "Hands across the seats" for E. B. and B. T. at recess in the shows.

Who was it that started playing "chopsticks" behind Central's curtain in the auditorium while the illustrious Senior girls and their illustrious mothers and guests were having their tea, and while one of the guests was illustriously speaking? The mystery remains unsolved . . . Hmmm, we have our suspicions.

Wonder why students love commercial geography this year? I wonder?

Jim Hart is a lovely ballet dancer . . . Joe Kissiah is dignified . . . Dobbie Kumpen isn't.

"Nellie"

No issue of the Annual would be complete without a few words devoted to that well-known figure, "Nellie" Freeman, the chief of Central's janitorial staff. His smiling face and ever-pleasant greeting are an integral part of Central—so much so, in fact, that when an alumnus returns to this institution of erudition, his first, and more often than not, last minutes are spent in pleasant conversation with "Nellie." And he never fails to be greeted by a sincere smile and a hearty handshake, for never does Nellie forget a face. Names may elude his memory—indeed, he quite often never knows them; but never does he fail to remember those who return to Central, be they but graduated the year before, or in the dim, forgotten past of Central's early existence.

However, he is known not merely to the alumni but much more to the students. Since he has so effectively cleaned our school from top to basement, he is looked upon with even more respect than in the past. And woe be unto him who falls beneath Nellie's wrath for having marred the appearance of the newly washed walls, for one somehow feels more severely a word or two of reprimand from Nellie than he does an hour spent with, let's say, Miss Bertha. For, you see, Nellie is one of us, we students feel.

SCIENCE

The most important advancement in medical science has been the announcement of a cure for insomnium in schola, more commonly known by its English name of insomnia in school. This is not a disease, but merely a mental condition, and has been shown to have a hitherto unsuspected prevalence among Central students.

Early in 1936, Professor John Henry Norman, of the Charlotte High School Chemistry Department, began experiments with rare organic compounds, of which compounds helium is an important constituent. After many failures, and in the face of public ridicule, he has produced the formula for the cure. As yet, no one has been able to combine the substances necessary for the new compound, but all available high pressure, high voltage, and high temperature gadgets in the country have been placed at his disposal; therefore, we may soon find the commercial form of the cure on the market, at a price within reach of students. It is hoped that the introduction of this medicine will put a stop to the opium-smoking so common among seniors.

Measles, Pro and Con

Catherine Daniels, notorious sophomore and satellite of Marion Hargrove, was among those stricken during the recent epidemic of German measles. Inspired during the crisis of the disease, Miss Daniels wrote thusly:

There is something ironic about the measles, something obviously, definitely fatalistic about the little germs. Like an ominous, black cloud of ill-fate, they hover over you. For from fourteen to twenty-one days after exposure the pesky germs are breeding in your blood. Hourly, minutely growing greater in number until they literally swarm in your blood-stream! And all the time you, unaware of the thing hanging over your head, go about your daily life, happy, contented.

Why, think of it! Even now, you may be stricken with this terrible red plague. Oh, repent before it is too late! They strike at random, and their random may like as not be while you are walking down the street; i. e., you were walking down the street, for now you lie dying of measles on the sidewalk. One evening you retire, serene and heedless, to wake the next morning covered from head to foot, nay, feet, with small, angry, red speckles. "My!" you think, "but my complexion has taken a turn to the worse over night! You see, you don't know—you never know."

Authorities on measles, German measles, to be precise, say that the cause of it is not known. I, for one, think that what makes you have measles is catching it. But who am I to say? I do not pretend to be omnipotent on the subject of the German measles, even tho' I have had the ill luck to have it.

EDUCATION

Language

Miss Gray, of the Language Department, has denied reports that she will teach the new class in Swambogi. This statement is directly contrary to reliable information in our files, and we suspect that the denial was prompted by unscrupulous higher-ups. It has always been our policy to present information to our readers in an uncensored form, and we are not afraid to denounce this gag policy.

Take it easy, MISS GRAY.

Mathematics

One of Central's most learned Mathematics instructors, whose name is withheld by her request, has discovered a new system of calculus. By use of this system it has been demonstrated that there are three possible ways for a coin to land when flipped: heads, tails, and standing on edge.

And Furthermore!

Latin

The discovery of what was thought to be a new mental disorder in Latin students has been shown to be merely a new system of memorizing the translations of the verb "ago." We never announce a discovery until it is definitely proved to be a fact, and we suspected this new mental disease from the first.

MUSIC

Once upon a time, a stranger visited our fair domain of learning and found here a most amazingly proficient music department. Upon investigation he learned that:

Marie Roseman is first violinist in the orchestra and Jean Dulin is first cellist.

Harold Daniels has the best tenor voice in town.

Joe McLaughlin cannot be beaten when it comes to beating.

Robert Eller plays swell cornet.

Emma Neale Black spansks the ivories.

Joe Betts exceeds all others in clarinet.

Joe Little dittos in flute.

Otho Linker can really play a baritone horn while Phil Darois puffs very excellently on the tuba.

Bobby Trotter is the best all-round musician in the outfit. He plays all these instruments quite well: Oboe, English horn, piano, "Glockenspiel"; and, though it is unknown to most, his singing is not bad.

---

C. H. S. Swingsters

Many an interesting program in guidance has been rendered by Carl Schoonover and his jazz orchestra. Playing some of the latest song hits, he has been leading community singings.

Jimmy Farr, the Fred MacMurray of Central, really blows a sweet trumpet. "Shorty" Thomson says there's but one thing he'd rather do than play drums, and that's to ride horseback . . . Same difference. That enchanting saxophone music, believe it or not, comes from those windy boys, Sam Powell, Robert Hicks, Carl Rowland, and Oscar Zimmerman. The trumpet section includes Jimmy Farr, Robert Eller, Charlie Derrick, and Emory Stephenson. Billy Felts, James Bryant, and Joe Buice know their trombones???? Those boys beating it out on the bass are Phil Dabois and David George with Bobby Trotter and Rachel Robinson at the piano.

ART

If you see a Centralite bespotted with the various hues of the rainbow, don't be alarmed; he's merely a student in one of Miss Mary Armand Nash's art classes. There is a class for nearly every type of paint-dabber. For those mercenary souls who have the ability, there is a commercial art class. These pupils study lettering, balance, and design. Then they apply their knowledge in making a book. They do the title pages and dedication page, and they also print stories with illustrations.

For the haphazard paint-sluggo who just can't make up his mind into which class he belongs there is a general arts class. In this class the fickle can delve in all types of drawings and change from one medium to another. First they paint flowers from life in water colors, then a three-tone picture in various color schemes with tempera colors, and from there on they allow their imagination to go wild in order to express their artistic souls.

As the human figure is always an interesting subject for art students, there is a special figure drawing class.

If you have sometimes wondered where all the art editors of the various publications at Central spring from, I'll hereby reveal all. Miss Mary Armand has a class in design. This class is made up of the more advanced students in art work. From this class, came last year's SNIPS AND CUTS art editor, Bill Hackney; The Rambler's staff artist, Robert Richardson; and Lace and Pig Iron's Creasy Overcarsh. Then there is this year's talented annual artist, Marie Roseman, her very efficient staff, and also Mary Frances Sproles, Lace and Pig Iron's art editor.

Yet some students wanted to know why Central had an art department!

CINEMA

---

Lights! Action! Quiet, Please!

There is a great difference between the movies shown at recess and those shown during guidance period. The latter are either interestingly instructive or truly great drama, while the recess shows are either musical (jazz) or slapstick comedy. The blame for this does not rest with the motion picture committee. They realize that the only way to have good attendance at recess shows, to which a student may go as it pleases him, is to present pastry-slingers or jazz artists. Therefore, the really good material is shown at guidance period where attendance is not arbitrary. No, Mickey, this wasn't written by a teacher or an "all A" student (or even B) student!

After 18 Years

The entire student body of Central High School in Charlotte sent its congratulations to Asheville High School last week for at last accomplishing its age-old ambition. This ambition was to defeat Central High in football. For 18 years the team and coaches of Asheville have tried to accomplish this aim, and we students are truly glad to see them accomplish this feat.

The Bull Fight

In spite of many handicaps, the football team reached Chapel Hill for the state championship tilt with Raleigh the Saturday after Thanksgiving. Encouraged by the cheers of the great mass of Central students (as many as 20 or 21), manager Joe McGinnis performed at his best. It was a cold day to say the least, but even this did not affect the ardor and determination of the brave sports writers, David Citron and Fat Mitchell of the Rambler. Many grads of Central were present to watch the Blue and Gray sweep on to victory. Many sassy jeers came from the Raleigh side of the stadium, but they were silenced as the kick-off came, that is, about one minute later when the Wartman dashed the length of the field for a touchdown. After Raleigh was given a 20-yard pass, John Barr challenged all the members of the Raleigh team, including the four in white knickers, to a fight. But no fight came. The rest of the game was rout, with the Centralites doing the routing. Mr. Bob Allen was a very happy man when the final whistle blew and his team was the state high school champion. He didn't even mind when some enthusiastic souvenir hunter took possession of his overcoat button. The team didn't want to stop with the whistle and a second match took place for the possession of the ball. The boys had no competition as they swept the field and licked up the blood. It was a gala occasion.

A Disgusting Situation

Rumors come from Capitol Hill that the Raleigh Athletic Committee is facing serious problems in the matter of hold-outs of their football and boxing contracts by the important members of both teams. Other rumors to the effect that the hold-outs are afraid to meet Charlotte High teams are circulating.

It is a well-known fact that some people won't fight for love or money. Having seen the Raleigh teams in action as we have during the past year, we can understand this trouble. It seems that their imported heftyies cannot make the required grades, so they have to pay almost all their salary to bribe a passing grade from the professors. They want all ineligibility rules done away with. It is disgusting to decent people all over the state to see the student body supporting the team in their disgraceful move.

Open Up!

MILESTONES

Kidnaped: Tiny Waddill, last seen playing bridge. Frances Hayes is being held for questioning. Only clue is that she trumped her partner's ace.

Stolen: By all the Senior activities at the end of school, all the available time for the Juniors and Sophomores to do things.

Lost: By several Senior boys, several Senior rings, somewhere at Central. If found, please (don't) return them to their respective owners.

Found: On the hands of several girls, who are said to be desperate gun-molls, several Senior rings which look suspiciously like some which have been mentioned before.

CRIMINOLOGY

cising their rights of free action, walk through the portals of Central High School after 8:45.

4. Dr. Garinger was severely censured for the lock-out of Central students and it was testified that fully 90 per cent of the students, thus maltreated, were forced to undergo treatments for colds. It was further charged that Dr. Garinger attempted to break up the school spirit of the Student-body by prohibiting them from attending athletic meets out-of-town and chastising those who attended these events.

5. Mr. "Johnnie" Norman was accused of manufacturing foul chemicals and polluting the halls with these odors.

6. Mr. "Lonnie" Sides was declared to be the man responsible for the jumble of noise that comes from 209.

7. Mr. Mark F. Tinkham was said to have ruined the clothes of students by his physics' experiments with candles.

A committee composed of Chairman Dobby Kumpe, Robert Cathey, Joe McGinnis, and Ed Williams, was selected to present this list of grievances to the Charlotte School Board. In the meantime it was decided that students should merely attend classes and not participate in any discussion or prepare any homework until another meeting. The meeting was adjourned until June 5, 1937.

Round-Up

Have you heard about the "Ex-Sandy" Club? That's one organization with an increasing membership—Add other unanswered questions—Do Central's boys really prefer blondes?—Mae Duckworth is certainly an enterprising somebody—And we're predicting big things for Mack Murphy and Jimmie Greenwood — Andy's little brother, Ed, seems to be following in his big brother's footsteps—What could Central do without the executive abilities of David and Syd—without that habit of Lewis' and Reddy's of always starting something new—without our "It" girl, Sybil—without Jimmie's oratory—or Ermine's friendliness, or

Merrie's "ain't" or Pattie's good sportsmanship—or Milton's do-it-ive-ness—

Orchids to all the business managers of our publications—they've had a tough job—but they've done some good work—

Ernest Morris and Bill Shore are really getting places—we're looking forward to some swell debates from them next year—

Have you ever noticed the resemblance between "Teeney" Gran-ger and Virginia Bruce—of Jimmie Capps and Gene Raymond—and there is something Clark Gable-ish about Milton Short.

Catherine Lawrence is the neatest girl in school—Harriet Glasgow, the most dignified—and, well, we won't mention the laziest one this time.

Susanna has unusually pretty eyes—A synonym from perpetual motion, Nancy Alexander's left eyebrow—Marie Roseman has shown us that she has what it takes—and Mary Braswell is the personification of attractiveness.

Smoky Joe has the most mischievous grin—

When the traffic cops began wearing their T. C. badges—and the operations committee put on O. C. badges, one young man threatened to wear a P. C. badge (privileged character).

Pep plus ability equals a swell fellow—specifically Eugene Guld-ledge.
